

Pay fair for care

Why are we protesting?

Aotearoa's 65,000 care and support workers are some of the lowest paid workers in our health system. They work in sectors like: aged care, disability, mental health and addiction, and home support.

In 2017, after an eight-year legal battle, these workers won an historic settlement which improved pay rates. But now, the settlement expires on 1 July and these rates have lost value. The Government has offered an extra 70c per hour for the next 18 months.

That's not even enough to buy a Chupa Chup!

Unions, employers, workers and clients are out here today to say, this isn't good enough.

Help by signing our petition

Go to <https://www.change.org/p/nz-govt-payfair-for-care>

By signing this petition you stand with these undervalued essential health workers and call on the Government to urgently address this crisis, and Pay Fair For Care.

Pay fair for care

Why are we protesting?

Aotearoa's 65,000 care and support workers are some of the lowest paid workers in our health system. They work in sectors like: aged care, disability, mental health and addiction, and home support.

In 2017, after an eight-year legal battle, these workers won an historic settlement which improved pay rates. But now, the settlement expires on 1 July and these rates have lost value. The Government has offered an extra 70c per hour for the next 18 months.

That's not even enough to buy a Chupa Chup!

Unions, employers, workers and clients are out here today to say, this isn't good enough.

Help by signing our petition

Go to <https://www.change.org/p/nz-govt-payfair-for-care>

By signing this petition you stand with these undervalued essential health workers and call on the Government to urgently address this crisis, and Pay Fair For Care.

